

Sailing into Uncharted Waters: How to make the youth more competitive by leveraging the GIFT platform Official Rules of the GIFT Marketing Contest

A. Introduction

Taiwan is experiencing a brain drain under increased global competition, greatly impacting recruitment for both businesses and non-profit organizations. Since 2018, the Ministry of Education has supported and funded the Global Internship Facilitation of Taiwan (GIFT), an internship matching platform which is administered by Tunghai University and offers services free of charge to both employers and students studying in Taiwan, including international and overseas Chinese students. Business members can search for talent by posting internship positions on this platform. Student members can browse open internship positions and apply for those that fit their background and interests. Later, in accordance with policies of the Ministry of Education, young people under the age of 30 were allowed to register as student members even if they were not enrolled students. We are looking for creative ways to market the GIFT platform and welcome those with a knack for marketing to enter this competition.

B. How to enter the contest

1. Eligible participants: College students or recent graduates under the age of 30. All nationalities are welcome, and foreigners are encouraged to enter the contest.
2. Entrants compete in teams consisting of a maximum of 5 members, who can be of different ages. Each team comes up with its own name. Each individual entrant can only be part of one team.
3. Registration: Fill out an online registration form on the event page of the contest on the Bounty Hunter website and upload your submissions. The link is:
